

THE 1940 PREMIERSHIP FLAG

A THRILLING VICTORY

Reference 2022/12

Dromana 'broke the ice' in 1931 to win its first flag ; and in 1937 defeated Frankston by three goals to take out the honours. The club's next premiership flag came in 1940 when Dromana overcame a resolute Red Hill combination at Frankston Park. For some unknown reason , few details of that stirring win have ever been documented in club history; and the following article tries to bring some light on that thrilling victory and the players who represented the club on that memorable day.

In 1940 , the Peninsula Football League structure comprised two divisions ('A' and 'B') and Dromana FC was grouped in 'B' Grade competition

- There were seven teams in 'A' Grade: Frankston, Mornington, Sorrento, Naval Depot, Hastings-Tyabb, Seaford-Carrum, and Somerville-Baxter.
- 'B Grade' comprised the following teams : Dromana Sorrento, Rosebud, Hastings-Tyabb, Red Hill, Pearcedale, and Somerville-Baxter

Peninsular Has 14 Teams

The Peninsula Football League received final nominations from clubs desiring to enter teams in the A or B grade. Both competitions will be as strong as last year, with seven teams in each grade.

"A" grade teams consist of Frankston, Mornington, Sorrento, Naval Depot, Hastings-Tyabb, Seaford-Carrum, and Somerville-Baxter.

"B" grade, Sorrento, Rosebud, Dromana, Hastings-Tyabb, Red Hill, Pearcedale, and Somerville-Baxter.

Peninsula players who may happen to be away in military camps will have till July 31 to register. Should any club desire to play any member of the military who is not a local resident, but who is in camp on the Peninsula, a permit must be secured.

1940- A TESTING SEASON FOR SOME CLUBS

1940 was a difficult year for football (and all sporting clubs in Australia). The war effort and declining numbers of available players (due to enlistment and essential services manpower etc.) made fielding teams a most challenging proposition . The impact of war affected 'small-town' life in many ways.

At one stage of the 1940 season, things were so difficult for some local clubs that it was suggested to shorten the season and play the finals in July. That idea was rejected by the club delegates, but it was decided to play 16-a-side matches in the 'B' Grade Division in the hope of assisting smaller clubs 'survive' the season .

Football To Continue
—oOo—
B Grade Proposals

Football on the Mornington Peninsula is likely to continue for the coming season. At a meeting of the Mornington Peninsula Football League, held last week, delegates decided to make every effort to continue the season.

Mr. F. Volk, of Red Hill, told the meeting that his club was having great difficulty in fielding a team each week. Half the Red Hill team had enlisted. Rosebud delegates said their team was having a similar difficulty.

Mr. Volk moved that the home and home matches in the B. section be terminated on Saturday, June 29, and that the semi-finals in this grade be commenced on July 6. The motion was defeated. Mr. Volk submitted to the meeting that it should be possible to reach an arrangement among the B. grade teams that where a team could field only 15 players, that the opposing team should do likewise.

16 A SIDE.
In a discussion on this proposal it was resolved to make application to the National Football Council for permission to field 16 men a side in the B. Grade competition.

MORNINGTON CARRIES ON.
In spite of rumours that low finances would force the Mornington Football Club to withdraw from the competition, players, officials, and supporters came forward in a true sporting fashion at a special meeting last week, and guaranteed £4 a week to enable the club to continue till the end of the home and home matches, which conclude after five more playing Saturdays.

Standard (Frankston, Vic. : 1939 - 1949), Friday 5 July 1940, page 1

Throughout the 1940 season , reports indicated that Dromana had been a solid and gritty force to be 'reckoned with'; and judging by the 'B' Grade Ladder after 14 rounds that season, Dromana 'headed the table'.The Naval Depot sat second on the Ladder with ten wins and three losses.

It is interesting that Pearcedale, which finished fourth, had actually defeated Dromana by five points in the last game in the 'Home and Away' series.

RESULTS
A GRADE
Frankston 13-13	d. Sorrento 6-13.

THE 'B' GRADE LADDER -1940 HOME & AWAY SERIES

As can be seen from the table below, the 'Top Four' teams on the 'B' Grade Ladder that season were: Dromana, Naval Depot, Red Hill and Pearcedale. Readers should will note that three of the bottom clubs (Sorrento, Somerville-Baxter and Frankston) had teams playing in the 'A' Grade division,

THE 1940 FINAL SERIES

Using the information, as published in the local newspapers of that time, the results of that final series were:

- First Semi Final: Red Hill 12.9 (81) defeated Pearcedale 11.11 (77).
- Second Semi- Final: Dromana defeated Navy Depot in convincing style to advance to the 1940 Grand Final. The fact that the game was played with 16-men per side is indicative of the times, and nature of 'B' Grade football.

DROMANA WIN EASILY

Only a small number of people assembled at Morningson on Saturday to witness the match between Dromana and Naval Depot. Each side played 16 men. The game was won in confident fashion by Dromana, who proved too good for their opponents. Although the standard of football was not high, there was a number of Dromana players who showed good form. The Navy played their best football in the last quarter, but they never had any chance of overtaking Dromana, who, on their form, appear to have the premiership at their mercy. The best players were:—Aust, Williams, Pittock, Cornish, Burke, Loder, Murley, and Guy. For Naval Depot:—Buck, Cazaly, Olson, Muir and Monad. Dromana goalkickers:—Brown (3), T. Murley (3), Loder, Glover and Hazeldene. Depot goalkickers:—Muir (2), Buck (2), Deacon, and Hurley.

- Preliminary Final : This final was to be played between Red Hill and the Navy Depot but, as shown in this press cutting, the Navy (for reasons explained below) was forced/obliged to withdraw from the match...

SORRENTO AND NAVAL DEPOT

Naval Depot and Sorrento, who will compete in the M.P.F.L. football final at Morningson to-morrow are expected to stage a thrilling game, and with a continuance of the fine weather conditions, a large crowd is expected. To date, attendances at the finals have been disappointing, and should there not be a larger crowd at the next matches, the League will have no alternative but to impose a levy on all clubs to meet the expenditure incurred.

"B" GRADE FINAL

As Naval Depot delegates stated at this week's meeting of the League that they would be unable to field a team for the final against Red Hill on Saturday, the team was granted permission to withdraw without penalties. Red Hill will meet Dromana in the grand-final at Frankston to-morrow.

NAVY WITHDRAWS FROM THE FINALS RACE

When reading the details of the 1940 final series, it can be a little confusing at first glance. However, a forgotten piece of local football history is that Red Hill actually won its way, into the Grand Final, without playing in the Preliminary Final.

As a consequence of the Navy Depot's inability to field a 'B' Grade team that weekend (due to the national predicament- see press extract above), Red Hill won the 'right' to play Dromana in the Grand Final. It appears that the 'B' Grade Final was played one week earlier than had been originally fixtured by the PFL earlier that year.

As mentioned in the extract (above), quite rightly and sensibly, the Naval Depot was not penalized for its 'non appearance'; and what thinking person could object when 'bigger issues ' dominated the lives of sailors at that time. It is fair to say, that the men of the Naval Depot had more important battles to fight in 1940.

Note: As the press clipping shows, the Naval Depot played in the 'A' Grade Preliminary Final that weekend. Sorrento won that match by 21 points but were resoundly defeated by Somerville in the 'A' Grade Grand Final on the following Saturday. Somerville 20.11 (131) defeated Sorrento 10.15 (75).

The fact that Australia was on a war footing may explain the lack of publicity given to local football matches at that time . The burning question, of whether young men should play football while others enlisted for the military service, had sharply divided public opinion throughout Australia at that time.

The Champion of Pier Street – Wally Guy

THE 'B ' GRADE GRAND FINAL TEAMS

According to MPNFL records and the 'Standard' newspaper, the teams that day were:

Dromana: Wally Guy, Bert Aust, Jack Cornish, Vin Hazeldine, Jack Glover, Jack Hazeldine, Ted Loader, Elgar Pittock, Norm Osborne , J & T Murley, Bill Clydesdale, T. Lovell, Spencer Brown and Rueben Griffiths,

UMPIRE ROY DORE

According to the newspaper extract and MPNFL archives, Roy Dore umpired the match. Roy was a 'giant' in the history of Peninsula football and Carrum FC. Once described as a 'living legend', Roy was admired and respected by those who knew him. His community involvement and civic leadership included Justice of the Peace, Captain of the CFA, Carrum FC President, player, club coach and he was also a Life Member of the local life-saving club. In 1985, the recreation reserve at Graham Road was named in his honour.

Roy Dore

The following quotation was taken from an article entitled the 'Tale of Two Champions'; and is part of a recent interview given by Roy's daughter (Marie McIntosh)

" Roy's involvement in the community was prolific, from being a player, umpire, trainer and president of Carrum Football Club to his captaincy of Carrum Fire Brigade and presidency at Carrum Surf Life Saving Club. "He was a great community man, captain of the fire brigade for 37 years and a member of the football club since age 15," recalls Marie. "We were always involved in the community, from church and calisthenics to local football." His words of advice were "If you're in an organisation, you must contribute and not sit on the sidelines."

THE GAME-CLOSE ENCOUNTERS

The game was played at Frankston Park. In that era, the journey from Southern Peninsula to Frankston, for those without cars, would have presented certain logistics problems; and there is every chance that some supporters desisted from attending that game. However, those fans who attended witnessed an exciting match.

At every 'break', the game was 'up for grabs'; and, in all sporting contests, close finishes make for 'grand memories.' Once again, the 'old firm' of Guy, Aust and Griffith 'stood tall' for Dromana across four quarters. It must be said that Red Hill suffered a major setback when its champion Fred Volk sustained an injury sometime in the third term. The final scores were:

	1 st Quarter	2 nd Quarter	3 rd Quarter	Final
Dromana	3.1 (19)	7.7 (49)	9.14 (68)	10.19 (79)
Red Hill	2.1. (13)	5.8 (38)	8.13 (61)	10.15 (75)

DROMANA'S PREMIERSHIP

Red Hill's Game Fight

Supporters of Dromana and Red Hill, who saw the grand final of the "B" Section at the Frankston Park on Saturday, were treated to some exciting football, when Dromana, who had led for most of the game, were in danger of being overtaken in the last few minutes. While the final bell was still ringing, a Red Hill forward marked the ball 35 yards out. Umpire Dore refused to allow him to take his kick. Although the umpire was correct, his decision caused some comment among Red Hill supporters, whose team was only 4 points in arrears.

At the end of the first quarter Dromana was ahead, scores being 3-1 to 2-1.

Play was still very even in the next term, and both sides had 10 shots for goal, but Dromana's greater accuracy placed them further ahead. Half-time scores were: Dromana 7-7; Red Hill 5-8.

Red Hill suffered a severe blow when their captain (Fred Volk) was forced to withdraw with the recurrence of a leg injury. He had been one of the outstanding men on the field and was the inspiration of many of their drives. The team, however, rose to the occasion and played tenacious football. A bout of inaccuracy by Dromana decreased their lead and scores at the last change were:—Dromana 9.14; Red Hill 8.13.

Attacking round the wing, Dromana quickly increased their lead by 1-1 to place them 14 points in front. Red Hill were far from finished, however, and for most of the remaining time, took the initiative. Cool and clever play by Guy, Aust and Cornish turned many of their attacks. Red Hill's dash at this stage of the game was a tribute to their training. More co-operation on the forward lines would have made their task of winning easier. Edwards goaled and another goal was scored from a scramble in front of goals. Dromana, in their answering rallies, could only manage behinds, and the final bell rang with the Hill still attacking. Final scores:—

DROMANA 19-19—79 points.

still attacking. Final scores:—

DROMANA 19-19—79 points.

RED HILL 10-15—75 points.

Congratulating Dromana after the match, Red Hill's captain expressed pleasure at the spirit in which the game had been played. His injury was "all in the game."

The Dromana captain (B. Guy) referred to the sporting manner in which Volk had taken his disappointing injury. He hoped that the teams would meet again next year. Both teams played 16 men a side.

Best players were:—Guy, Aust, Cornish, Glover, Holderness and Griffith.

For Red Hill:—Volk, Edwards, Wiseman, Murray, Skidmore, Wilson and Trewin.

As can be seen (above) ,the 1940 Grand Final was a 'nail biter' that went down to the very last kick of the game. The match review provided an insight into the dying seconds of the game when an un-named Red Hill forward gained possession ball on the siren but Umpire Dore disallowed his mark.

The best players for Dromana were: Guy, Aust, Cornish, Glover, Rueben and Griffith . In the newspaper, report Holderness is listed among the best players. This may have meant to be Jack Hazeldine; and it is important to remember that the reporter/club scribe probably wrote the review by hand on that day. Type/text setting was a 'thorny task' for any compositor unacquainted with local football personalities in those days of press printing.

DROMANA FC GOES INTO WAR TIME RECESS

The 1940 Grand Final was to be the last game that the Dromana Football Club would play until 1946. For the next five years, DFC went into recess (as most clubs did in those desperate war years).

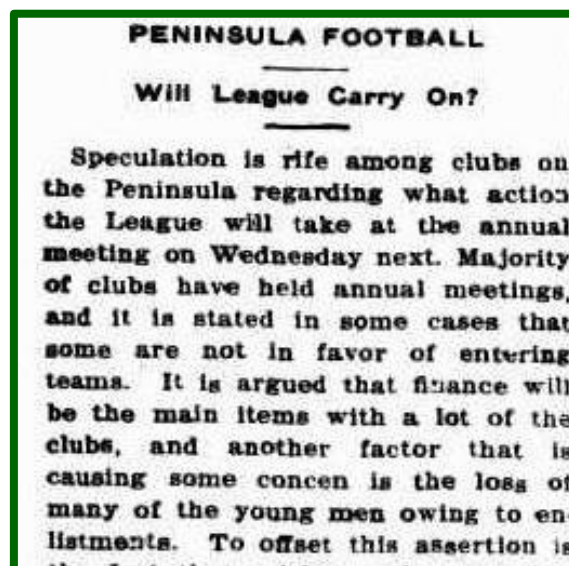

Across the land, football clubs went into a form of 'suspended animation' while war raged across Europe and in the Pacific. As history has shown, organized football leagues, during war time (e.g. VFL) became the source of bitter division and much angst...

"As was the case during World War: 1 , there was an extended debate to whether the game should continue at all..." Source: 'Up there Cazaly' Page: 117

In small towns, such as Dromana, there was simply no chance of 'playing on' because it was practically impossible to find enough willing players to form a team (as many local young men had enlisted for war duty).

There were attempts to keep the game 'alive' on the Mornington Peninsula but they were half-hearted efforts as football had lost its 'sheen and attraction' while young men were losing their lives in far flung battlefields.

The following extract ('Frankston Standard' March 21st in 1941) indicates how organized football, on the Mornington Peninsula, faced major obstacles...

By May 16th 1941, there were only seven clubs involved in the PFL; and it is safe to suggest that it was an ad-hoc football league. The clubs who continued to compete included Hastings-Tyabb, Seaford, Frankston High School, Carrum, Naval Depot, Pearcedale and Frankston.

Source: Frankston Standard May 16th 1941 Page: 6

As the ramifications and the gravity of the war 'hit home' across the towns, any plans regarding organized football competitions steadily dissipated; and by April 19th 1942, the makeshift competition was abandoned...

"There will be no Inter-club football on the Mornington Peninsula this winter for the duration of the war. The Mornington Peninsula Football League's decision at its annual meeting on Wednesday night, to go into recess for the duration of hostilities, was unanimous, and will cause little surprise amongst football followers on the Peninsula." FOR YOUNGER READERS- THOSE WHO SERVED

Len Thomas, the South Melbourne champion who died in battle at Salamaua in New Guinea on the 17th August 1943. Len was the first VFL captain to volunteer to serve in the military forces in World War: 2. Len played 187 games for South Melbourne before being appointed to coach Hawthorn and later North Melbourne.

It is documented that of some 1500 VFL (now AFL) footballers, who enlisted for duty during World War: II, 60 died on active service. It is impossible to ascertain how many community football club players perished in that dreadful conflagration. Each footballer had a special story; and it is hoped that all young footballers will take time to discover about those who served the nation and made the supreme sacrifice in war. Younger readers may like to follow this link to read the stories of AFL footballers who died on active service.

Barbara Cullen's book: 'Harder than Football' lists 2500 AFL/VFL players who served in some capacity during wartime. It is one of the finest examples of research related to the history of Australian football. Former Dromana champions Ern Rudduck and George and Jim McLear are mentioned in the book.

PEACE IS DECLARED –DFC BOUNCES BACK WITH SPIRIT AND HAND KNITTED JUMPERS .

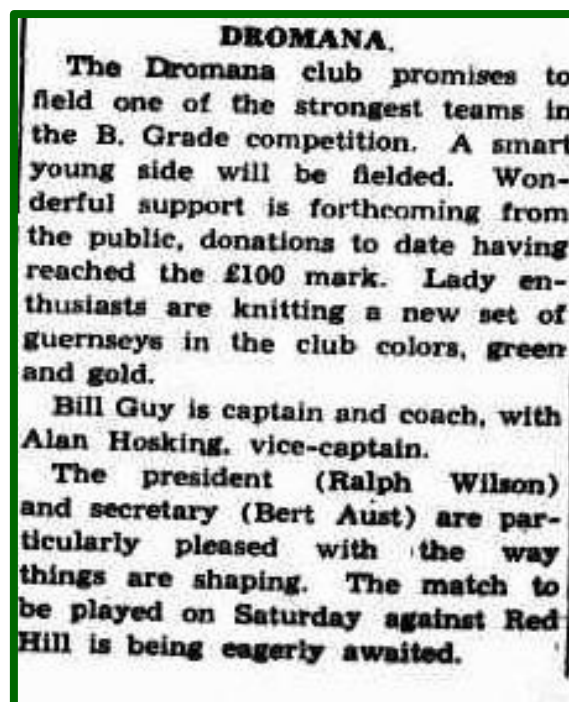

The Dromana FC (and hundreds of other suburban / country clubs) went into recess and 'sat out' the war years; and it wasn't until the winter of 1946 that the re-vamped local competition (MPFL) resumed operations.

Football lovers will fully appreciate how difficult it must have been for 'die-hards' to have football 'mothballed' for five seasons during wartime. Following the lengthy hiatus and the declaration of world peace, Dromana re-formed and a new chapter in the story of the club began.

In 1946, Dromana was one of seven teams affiliated in the MPFL 'B' Grade division. The other teams were Frankston, Hastings, Red Hill, Pearcedale-Baxter, Rosebud and a newly established club-Rye.

In the first game of the 1946 season, Dromana met Red Hill at Pier Street in a 'replay' of the 1940 Grand Final. A lot of water had flowed under the bridge since that game but recollections, of that disputed mark, after the final siren in the 1940 Grand Final, may have lingered in the minds of supporters. It is no falsehood that some football fans have 'elephantine' memories.

Finally, younger readers will be amazed to discover that Dromana's new post-war green and gold team guernseys were hand knitted by a group of enthusiastic local women...How things have changed at Pier Street since those challenging times for players and officials!
